success stories

home is the key

“Owning a house that will become our home would be a place where my children would have a yard, their own rooms, and a place to return to.”

Nicole, 20th Northern Ocean Habitat Homeowner

every home is a building block

Home is the key to building strength, for everything. When homeownership is affordable, children have improved academic performances in school. Parents are more confident about finances. Families are healthier. Neighborhoods are stronger.

Northern Ocean Habitat for Humanity, along with your support, will create a strong foundation for a hardworking family by making homeownership possible.
